 Our chariots and our horsemen lie in readines. Shakefp.
TO R I P E N. v. n. [from ripe.] To grow ripe.
 This is the state of man; to-day he puts forth
 The tender leaves of hopes, to-morrow blossoms,
 And bears his blushing honours thick upon him;
 The third day comes a frost, a killing frost;
 And when he thinks, good easy man, full surely
 His greatness is a ripening, nips his root;
 And then he falls as I do. Shakefp. Henry VIII.
 Afore the four grape is ripening in the flower. Is. xviii. 5.
 The pricking of a fruit, before it ripeneth, ripens the fruit more suddenly. Bacon's Natural History.
 Trees, that ripen late, blossom soonest; as peaches and cornelians; and it is a work of providence that they blossom so soon; for otherwise they could not have the sun long enough to ripen. Bacon's Natural History.
 Melons on beds of ice are taught to bear,
 And strangers to the sun yet ripen here. Granville.
TO R I P E N. v. a. To mature; to make ripe.
